"In rendering an account of my stewardship to the people of Westchester county," Gov. Glynn said, "I respectfully call their attention to the fact that I have saved the taxpayers of this county $391,-000 and I have provided the means through which the farmers of Westchester can save themselves $434,000 more.

"Last year New York appropriated $57,000,000 to run the State Government. When I took office I saw that if the State continued at this rate, it would be obliged to levy a direct tax of $11,000,000 on the taxpayers of New York. My ex-perience as Comptroller convinced me that by prudent sconomy the State budget reduced and a direct tax could laid the facts before the Legislature and urked it to pass an appropria-tion bill which would obviate the neces-sity for a direct tax. After a war over-economy lasting three months the Legis-lature finally reduced last year's budget $3,000,000, and then the appropriation bills arms to me. In thirty days I reduced came to me. In thirty days I reduced these appropriations $8,000,000 more by the vigorous use of my veto power.

"As a result of these reductions New York will live within its income during the coming year and instead of spending $57,000,000 it will keep well inside of $47,000,000. To give you an idea of what this reduction means let me advert to another tax which at present is engaging public attention.

"So much has been said of the work-men's compensation law that I believe it is only just to those who are gathered here to explain precisely what the work-men's compensation law means. And the best way to illustrate the working of the new law is by a comparison of actual cases before and after the law went into
